EDITORIAL

Welcome to the June edition of Burton News. We hope you are all looking forward to a wonderful summer. It is lovely to see the flowers out in all the gardens and to have decent weather to spend time outside.

You will all notice the small brown envelope included with this month's BN. We are sorry to sound like a scratched record but, despite being run by a happy band of volunteers, the newsletter costs roughly 50p per copy to publish each month. This is paid for by your kind donations in the annual drive, by a few regular subscriptions for those out of the village and by advertisers. Income from advertisers has dropped for various reasons in the last year. Donations are completely voluntary but, if you enjoy reading the BN and want it to continue dropping on your doormat, please could you see your way to contributing to the cost?

The envelopes can be dropped off in the shop and there will be a collection box in the pub this year (thank you to the King's Arms for hosting this). Alternatively, you can pay by BACS using Sort Code 01-01-60 and account number 18029388.

This month's offering contains all the usual updates about clubs and societies in the village. There is a report on the very successful Art and Crafts show held in May on page 6.

The Hall is, once again, hosting a fashion show from Kitty Brown on Friday 7th June. Prior to that on the 4th June they hold their AGM at which they hope to recruit some new members of the management committee. On that note, Burton News would still like to have a volunteer to be Minutes Secretary at our monthly meetings. Please contact us for details.

The wonderful Burton Singers are bringing us some perhaps much needed positivity in their latest concert on Saturday 15th June at the Hall. We are glad to include their poster - with artwork by Kath Hayhurst - as our front page.

The tennis club is holding an open day to encourage new membership on the 29th of June. All are invited to give it a go.

Congratulations to the Drama club (BADs) for obtaining a grant from MOTO services for some new sound equipment see page 7, and a big thank you to MOTO services for giving it to them!

It was great to see so many Burton residents posting pictures of the Aurora last month. We would love to think that you have all been inspired by Stephen Thexton's Burton Sky at Night articles! In this month's edition Stephen is considering whether we are likely to get a phone call from ET!

We also have some sound advice from our local community police support officer - see page 10.

We hope you all have a lovely June and enjoy some of the village events.

Fiona & Matthew

Burton Women's Institute

At their May Meeting members enjoyed a very interesting and enlightening talk on the life and times of William Wordsworth given by Jenny Wilson (a Blue Badge Speaker). Members who had attended the live screening of Swan Lake at Rheged reported on how much they had enjoyed it. Kath Hayhurst reported that members were contributing to our group entry at the Country Fest.

The Competition for a hand-made flower was won by Hazel Parker with Paula Firth second. Betty Prickett and Bet Burrow won the raffle. The Speaker at our next meeting on the 13 th June will be Helen Askew who will talk on Topsy Filly Gin and the Competition will be for a decorated bottle. The hostesses will be Gill Pilling and Josie Mulhearn.

Our monthly meeting was followed by our Annual Meeting (which had to be postponed in April). Andrea welcomed members; The Financial Statement was presented and adopted as was the Committee's Annual Report and the President's Address. As the eight Committee members were willing to continue and there were no new nominations no election was necessary. Andrea Bell was the only nomination for President – She was unanimously elected as our President for the forthcoming year. Art & Craft Exhibition 11th & 12th May 2024

Once again our Annual Art & Craft Society held a very successful two day Exhibition. We began in 2005, and have held an Exhibition every year since then, except the two Covid years.

Paula Firth and I were two of the four founder members with Gill Chaldecott and Mary Newell. Our members enjoy meeting for Art every Friday ,and for Craft once a month. The Exhibition allows us to show some of our creations.

This year our Guest Artist, who opened the Exhibition, was Shane Sidlow a Burton resident. We are so lucky to have such a talented artist here. Everyone agreed his portraits of people and animals were amazing.

Burton Morewood School supported us again, as they have done from the beginning. Each class produced a very colourful display.

Thanks also go ,to the following people who provided displays or sales tables, Jan Abbott, Cecilia Dowker ,Alison Flanders, Holme Craft Group, Rosie McLaughlan and Carole Breen, Hazel Parker and Jenni Ross, Betty and Liz Prickett, Fiona Thexton.

Special thanks to Paula Firth who organises the Art /Craft entries, and the refreshments. Thanks also to committee members John and Pam Brown who looked after the Raffle and Evelyn Constant , Marie Ellwood, and Audrey Frost.

Lastly many thanks to the team who helped to put the tables and stands, bunting banner, and advertising boards in place.

News from Burton Memorial Hall

We have a busy month coming up at the Hall, so here are the dates for your diaries. We start out with the Hall's Annual General Meeting on Tuesday 4th June, at 7.30pm in the Hall. It's open to everyone over the age of 18 living in the parish, and this year three of our committee are standing down so we are actively seeking new committee members to come and join us in keeping the Hall running. If you are interested and would like to know more ahead of the AGM please give me a call on 01524 781306.

Friday 7th June sees our annual Kitty Brown Boutique Fashion Show at the Hall, tickets are on sale now at The Village Store, price £5 which includes a glass of wine or a soft drink. Doors open at 7pm and the show starts at 7.30pm. It's always a good night so do come and join us.

Our mid-monthly coffee morning will be on Saturday 15th June, and will be under the Great Big Green Week banner so will be from 10am until 12 noon (rather than the usual 11.30am) and will include a delicious range of home-made cakes plus our huge used book stall. Because of this you'll find us in the main hall rather than the usual reception room.

We're also holding a Strawberry Saturday event on Saturday 6th July in the main hall (the middle of Wimbledon fortnight) from 2pm until 4pm. This will be a feast of strawberry-ness, with strawberry-themed cakes, ice cream, milk-shakes, strawberries and cream, and more! There will be a strawberry-themed colouring activity for the children too.

Finally, a mention of our new booking system for the Hall, as Helen Dawson is standing down at the AGM. Helen has been managing our bookings for 20+ years, so we are all going to miss her greatly on the committee, but wish her a very happy retirement. The new booking system will be using the Hallmaster online system, so if you want to book the hall for anything simply go to <https://bmh.burtonweb.org.uk/book-online> where you can see what dates and rooms are available and request a booking. You will be asked to create an account on the system so you can manage your bookings through it. Techie help for the new system is available if you get stuck, just give me a call on 01524 781306.

Kind regards,

Anne Nichols

Police Report for Burton in Kendal

Logs of note for your area are as follows.

Wednesday 17th April at approx. 4pm, someone was seen to throw rocks onto the motorway off Station Lane Bridge, this damaged a vehicle and luckily no one was injured. This has got to be one of the most dangerous things an individual can do and could cause a serious injury and death to potentially many people. This is being monitored and requests have been made for dash cam footage of those driving in the area at the time. Any one with any information can ring Cumbria Police on 101, you can give any information you wish anonymously.

Crime Prevention Advice for this time of year is "Lock it, or Lose it"

We are reminding homeowners to lock it or lose it over the coming months. The warm weather means more people are out in their gardens, make sure all windows/doors are locked and secured when you are not in the house. When you are out in the garden, you cannot hear who could be walking through your door. Don't leave valuables on show, keys, handbags, phones. It takes less than a minute to lock your doors but can take weeks to deal with the aftermath of a Burglary.

Also, we are a farming community, and we all know this is one of the busiest times of year and you will be moving from field to field, please think twice when leaving your Quad, Trailer, or other farm machinery out in plain view.

Should you wish to report a non-emergency then please ring 101, always in an emergency 999.

Burton Night Skies

Welcome to the summer edition of “Night Skies over Burton”. For nerdy observers of the nighttime heavens, we are now in to “Galaxy Season” the time of the year where we get better views of more distant objects beyond our Milky Way Galaxy. Two recent occurrences sparked the idea for this BN entry: the interest it caused by the posting of photos of galaxies that I had taken on to the Burton Facebook sight and a new series on the TV, “The 3 Body Problem.” You may or may not have seen it – it raises some interesting questions. I thought we could consider for this article – “is there anyone out there?”

The photo below is of an area called ‘M66 -The Leo Triplet’. It is one of many ‘clusters’ of galaxies each consisting of trillions of stars, and it is now firmly believed that the majority of these stars each have their own planetary systems. So, what are the chances of phoning a friend... or foe?

M66 Leo Triplet

Back in 1961, a chap called Frank Drake came up with an equation now known as the Drake equation which calculated the probability that there might be another planet hosting intelligent life upon it just within our own Milky Way Galaxy.

N_c = the number of civilizations in the Milky Way galaxy with which communication might be possible

N_s = Number of stars in the Milky Way Galaxy

f_p = the fraction of those stars that have planets.

n_e = the average number of planets that can potentially support life per star that has planets.

f_l = the fraction of planets that could support life that actually develop life at some point.

f_i = the fraction of planets with life that go on to develop intelligent life (civilizations).

f_c = the fraction of civilizations that develop a technology that releases detectable signs of their existence into space.

f_L = fraction of a planetary lifetime graced by a technological civilization

Now, I can feel your eyes glazing over! Don't worry, we are not going to start performing a page of mathematics, in summary, the results were phenomenally wide ranging from virtually no chance at all to a reasonably good chance. All Frank Drake intended was to promote thoughtful discussion. It has been adapted over the years by people such as Pulitzer Prize-winning author, Carl Sagan, whose book 'Cosmos' inspired the ground-breaking series of the same name in the early 80s. Furthermore, the actual probabilities have been refined as the science has developed. For example, over the last 10 years we have started to realize there are a huge number of stars with planetary systems. If you want to delve further, there is much more on the internet in places like Wikipedia.

So where does this leave us? Well, I'm not expecting a little green man knocking on my door any time soon! The problem is one of both time and distance (huge amounts of both!) and the theoretical limit of being unable to travel faster than the speed of light.

The galaxy in the image is a reconstruction of the Milky Way, as if it were about 110,000 light-years in diameter (more recent research suggests it's even bigger than that).

The itsy-bitsy white dot is how far our radio signals have travelled from Earth since the first emission in 1897. In effect the light we are observing from the opposite side of our own galaxy set off as our early human ancestors started moving out of Africa into Europe.

Beyond this, our nearest major galaxy, Andromeda, lies over 2.5million light years away and those in the Leo triplet, seen earlier, are around 35million light years distant and these are our relatively close neighbours. The most distant confirmed galaxy is 'JADES -GS-z13-0,' discovered by the JWST in 2022 lies around 33.5 billion light years away and probably long before our galaxy existed let alone little Earth.

So, personally, I do not think it is very likely that we are about to have an interstellar let alone an intergalactic text, email or phone call any time soon. I can quite believe that it is probable other life exists beyond our own confines and there may well be intelligent civilizations which exist out there, but the practicalities of communication with our present levels of scientific knowledge make this very improbable.

As I am writing this, we have just had, as you probably know, the most amazing display of the Aurora Borealis. It was awesome to see so many of you out there posting your astrophotos on the Burton Westmorland Facebook page – they were amazing! As Fiona and I watched in Penzance (!) looking at the amazing spectacle in the early hours, we were giggling at the image of Burton residents having a mass pyjama party all staring at the night sky. Let's hope for a repeat showing as we move back towards the peak solar activity in the autumn months. Also in the autumn, there is another cosmic visitor heading our way in the form of comet (C/2023 A3 (Tsuchinshan–ATLAS)) and hopes are very high for this to be visible to the naked eye, so, fingers crossed for a good show and lots of clear skies.

June and July are months where we never reach true astronomical darkness, so what to look out for? Well, there will be some evenings when a new moon can make quite a spectacle and there is always the challenge of capturing the un-sunlit disc in the twilight. Also, if you are lucky enough to be heading to the Mediterranean, or further south where night falls earlier, then there are good opportunities to capture the milky way arching over head. If you can find an interesting landscape as well this can combine to make some stunning views. Have a lovely Summer!

Happy star gazing all, Stephen

It's a date in Burton & Clawthorpe! History notes by Kath Hayhurst

Thomas Pearson was born at Coat Green, in Dalton. He was baptised at Burton church on the 23rd May 1738. He had four sisters. He went to London circa.1756 and entered the Navy Office. He left England in 1761 as a cadet in the service of the East India Company, eventually becoming a Major. In 1767 he married Sarah Irwin and they had a daughter, but sadly his wife died a year later. Thomas returned to England in 1770 and soon after, he built Burton House with an extensive library.

His portrait was painted by George Romney about 1771, the picture hangs in Vancouver Art Gallery. Another of him with a Brahmin, is in Ohio. Major Pearson left for Calcutta again in 1776, and he died there in 1781. His only child Sarah, married Thomas Wogan Browne, of Castle Browne in Ireland. They were also painted by George Romney.

The crest of the Pearson family of Nether Hall, Gressingham is a parrot. This a sketch from a photograph of the bottom of the water spouts, at Burton House, if I remember correctly!

A Document about the Manor of Burton says that at the Court Baron Sarah the wife of Thomas Wogan Browne, and Lady of the Manor, received payments on June 26th 1789.

Kath Hayhurst.

To solve a spangram there is one word that crosses the grid and gives the theme for the others. Words can be made by moving up, down or diagonally, each letter is only used once and lines do not cross. Good Luck. The clue for this grid is - 'a hard skin?'

It's not just knitters, we have crocheters as well, but if your thing is embroidery or some other creative hobby you can still come along. The group's members are responsible for the post box topper you may have spotted outside the Village Store and the figures on the bollards by the pub and memorial hall. We have lots more such planned for the coming year, plus we have tea, coffee and cake every week too, so why not come and join us? The cost is just £2 per person per week.

Vicar's Letter...

How can we help?

Dear Friends

Our church was built for the whole village, and I was appointed as a minister to everyone, not just those who gather on Sundays. Of course, anyone is welcome to come to our services, events and the groups we run for those enquiring about Christian faith (a warm welcome guaranteed) but here's five other things you may wish to know:

Visiting you

I am available to talk about anything that I might be able to help you with. If you've got questions, or you'd just like to talk, then do get in touch. We also have a small team who regularly visit those in any kind of need. If that's you, or someone you know, please ask.

Visiting the church

Churches should be places where anyone can find quiet to think or pray. Burton church is open 10am - 4pm every Friday and Saturday for anyone to visit and we're working to get Holme church open too. Watch for an announcement!

Baptisms (aka Christenings)

Baptism is a sign of the Lord Jesus' willingness to forgive and wash clean from all guilt. The 'candidate' is received into Christ's family and confirms that Christ is his or her Saviour and Lord. (For a child, parents and godparents answer for him or her.) I'd be delighted to meet you and discuss this.

Weddings

Church weddings openly acknowledge that marriage is God's gift and the vows are made before Him. If you are not previously married and have lived here at any time for at least 6 months (or you have another 'qualifying connection') then you can be married in the church. If you have been married before then a church wedding may be possible, but we need to talk. A Church of England wedding costs £712.

Funerals

Anyone who lived here, or had a connection to the parish, can have a church funeral service and burial in the churchyard. I also take services at the Crematorium for those who would like a Christian funeral service there. We inter ashes in the churchyard under a simple stone tablet. A funeral service in church, with burial, costs £719 (not including grave-digging or other charges paid to the funeral director).

If you would like to know more, please get in touch with me.
