EDITORIAL

Happy New Year and welcome to the February edition of Burton News. February is a month where we can start to look forward to the days growing slightly longer, and hopefully a little warmer. It is still likely that winter has not yet finished with us, and our cover photograph is a reminder of what the winter months can bring. Thanks to Natalie Martin for contributing the picture of children enjoying the snow at the beginning of January. If you would like to be on the next cover, send a photograph or picture that represents the best of Burton to us before the next deadline.

This edition contains lots of great articles and some new contributors. Kate Kettlewell gives us a review of the quizzes that took place throughout last year at the King's which raised a fantastic amount for local charities, and she also gives us a little teaser about possible future events. We also have an article from the owners of the Royal Oak, giving us an update on the works and future opening.

We hear from some of the clubs and societies which demonstrate how busy and active our village is. The New Year is often a time to think about our health and fitness. Jan Abbott and Annette Sayers provide articles about activities that can help us to improve our fitness which are also fun. However, we all need a reward after exercise and Jeanie Christian's biscuit recipe sounds delicious.

Please would readers note that letters & articles must include a valid name & address. This can be withheld from publication on request. We will not publish any anonymous letters, or material which, in the opinion of the Editorial Committee, is of an offensive or defamatory nature. BN reserves the right to edit letters & articles in the interests of magazine space.

Kath Hayhurst looks back in time with articles about the village that appeared in the Lancaster Gazette nearly 200 years ago, and she has included a drawing of the Globe, previously the Cross Keys Inn.

As the year progresses we would love to hear your ideas for how Burton News should look in the future. We currently have two spaces on the committee which represent a great opportunity for you to have your say in how the newsletter should continue to flourish in the months and years ahead. Your role on the committee would be to attend a monthly meeting in the Memorial Hall to review the previous edition and shape the look of the next one. We generally meet on a Tuesday evening.

If that is too great a commitment, we are always looking for new ideas for content and articles that you would like to see. These can be regular monthly columns or less regular contributions. You might want to write about your interests or have a club that you would like to promote. We also welcome any artistic contributions, and see the future of the newsletter as a celebration of the talents of our local community.

If you have an idea, but would like to discuss further how it might work, feel free to email the editor at the address on the left. Furthermore, please give us a 'follow' and a 'like' on Facebook as we intend to make more use of this in the future. However, rest assured, the newsletter will continue to be delivered to your door at the start of every month by our dedicated team of volunteer distributors.

Village Store News - A great big "Thank You" from Gill

I have finally had both my hips replaced and, although I am still hobbling along, it is now without the pain that I was experiencing for the past three years. So increasingly, I'm able to cover a few shifts in the shop & Post Office.

I would like to say a big "Thank You" to all the members of the village who have sent good wishes, cards and flowers during my long absence, and who are making me feel genuinely welcome when they meet me on my way to or from the Store or behind the counter.

Thanks too, to Graham Theobald for his concern about my initial lack of progress and for his advice regarding relevant physiotherapy exercises.

Of course, to my colleagues in the Village Store & Post Office who have kept the "show on the road" and to Akis for looking after me and the Village Store in my absence.

B4RN4Burton

B4RN4Burton has now successfully connected 220 properties, accounting for around 34% of the local population. While this is a significant milestone, the B4RN team is still hard at work, ensuring more residents can access the reliable, full-fibre internet connection that has become essential in modern life. The effort is paying off as the community continues to embrace the benefits of broadband access.

The Burton Morewood CE Primary Academy and Nursery has recently installed a new Internet Telephony switchboard system, funded by a donation from the B4RN4Burton Community Dig Team, who raised the money through garden digs and house kit fitting as part of their B4RN project

One of the most visible impacts of B4RN's work has been felt in the village's community assets, with the village hall, the parish church and the local primary school all receive a free B4RN Service. Their most recent challenge was connecting Burton's Multi-Use Games Area (MUGA) – a local sports facility with an all-weather pitch and tennis courts – their security can now benefit from the network and again a free connection.

Burton Singers - 'Songs for Winter Night'

Burton Singers enjoyed a sold out 'Songs for a Winter's Night' concert before Christmas. An evening full of singing, including the audience with some Christmas classics and carols, laughs with Mick Fishwick as compere and songs beautifully conducted by Val and superbly accompanied by Stuart. A big thankyou to everyone who attended.

A total of £1,200 was raised on the night and will be allocated between two local charities. The first is: 'With Singing in Mind'- this Kendal based charity provides group singing sessions for people and their carers who have neurological conditions. The second is The Rosemere Cancer Foundation who work in South Cumbria and Lancashire to support local cancer patients.

The next concert will be Saturday 14 th June.

WI JANUARY MEETING REPORT

At their January Meeting Members enjoyed a very entertaining talk entitled 'Laughter Prescription' including some of his poetry by John Morton, a retired Methodist Minister – he was very funny – his timing was perfect - and there was much laughter. This month we voted on the Resolutions for this year's WI Annual General Meeting and the ones we wished to support - the results to be forwarded to the WI Office.

The Results of the Competition Cup for 2024 were announced: Paula Firth was third, Betty Prickett was second and Kath Hayhurst won it. The Competition for a funny photograph was won by Paula Firth with Glenis Smith second. The Raffle was won by Josie Mulhearn. The February Meeting is on the 13th – the topic is 'Sound Bath' ; the competition is for 'A Bell' and the hostesses are Carolyn Lamper and Gill Pilling.

News from Burton Memorial Hall

I can hardly believe that it's February and we're almost at the start of Spring already, it only seems a week or so since Christmas and here we are looking forward to our next two events at the hall.

Firstly we have our mid-monthly coffee morning on Saturday 15th February, from 10am until 11.30am, with a host of delicious home-made cakes on offer, plus we'll have Kingsharp back in the car park from 10am until 12 noon to sharpen your blunt things - household, DIY or garden tools can all be dealt with, so why not pop along and see them.

Secondly, on Saturday 22nd February we will welcome back to the hall two superb musicians: Tim Chu and Ian Bailey, with their Celebration of Simon and Garfunkel show, all those songs you know and love, plus anecdotes and funny stories about S&G themselves. It's a bring your own drinks night, and tickets are on sale at the Village Store now at £15 per person.

Looking further ahead in the year, you'll probably be aware that 2025 is the 80th anniversary of the end of the Second World War, and as we are a Memorial Hall whose origins lie in the dark days of the early 1940s, we want to commemorate that event. Our idea is to create a display of memories and family stories from residents about war time experiences, not just about people who were in the village during WW2, but for those who live here now to also share their families' involvement in it: whether as a child evacuee, or your relatives' involvement in the armed forces, or the land army, or as a munitions worker, or in a reserved occupation such as a miner or a glassworker, or as an ARP warden, or working as a code breaker, or for the Special Operations Executive, we'd love to hear your stories and, if possible, share your photos or records from those family members (we can scan photos and documents so as to protect and preserve your precious originals as well). We'll use them to create a display in the hall which will be in place from VE Day (8th May) through VJ Day (15th Aug) until the 2nd September 2025 (the 80th anniversary of the formal signing of the final instrument of surrender). We are also hoping to host more activities and events as part of this commemoration, and I'll include news of these in the next few

Burton Pickleball Club

Burton Pickleball is about to celebrate its second-year anniversary. For those who are wondering 'What on earth is Pickleball '! Here is a little backstory...

Pickleball was introduced to our Village by Jane Portnel, GoPickle. Jane is a great ambassador of the sport and has introduced pickleball to numerous villages by holding a set of fundamental sessions and supporting potential new clubs with the loan of equipment until groups become established.

A HUGE thank you also goes to Burton Tennis Club, who have taken Burton Pickleball under their wing and helped with the numerous forms to obtain a small grant which was used to buy our own equipment.

Pickleball, invented in 1965 as a garden game and named after the family dog Pickles (although there are other stories regarding the origins of the sport's name), has taken the UK by storm in recent years, being welcomed into tennis clubs, leisure centres, and village halls across the country and stealing the nation's hearts.

The sport is played on a badminton-sized court, with a tennis-style net, and players use paddles similar to paddles seen in table tennis. The dimensions of the court and net, contribute to the unique feel of pickleball in comparison with other sports played with rackets.

Much of Pickleball's growing popularity is down to its inclusivity for players of all ages and abilities.

In recent years, celebrities such as Kim Kardashian, actor Leonardo DiCaprio and the late Friends star Matthew Perry, plus tennis legend Serena Williams, have revealed they enjoy the game.

While pickleball can be a sport that is taken seriously, most of us are on the courts for camaraderie, exercise, and laughter.

Many of our players have recently moved into the village and have stories of how pickleball has helped them make new friends and build meaningful connections. These stories highlight the unique power of pickleball to bring people together, regardless of background, age, or skill level.

If you are interested in trying out this fantastic sport, please contact Jeannie Christian for my information on 07967940818

Fitness Is Fun!....Is Back

Welcome 2025!!

A new year, new intentions. I prefer to use the word intentions rather than resolutions because resolutions can be broken and its just too easy to fall into the trap of 'Oh well, I managed a week, a month , a couple of months' etc. etc. So, what are your fitness intentions for 2025?

Whatever the intention, the absolute must is to make a start ie. NOT put it off. Decide on what kind of exercise you want to do and find out where you can do it.

Enjoy moving!

Do you want an exercise class? There are several already up and running on our doorstep in Burton.

Would you rather take up a sport? Again, various options in and around the village.

How about just getting out and about in our gorgeous local countryside. The opportunities are endless. Making small lifestyle adjustments can reap huge rewards.

A great start is to set yourself a realistic goal, map out how you're going to achieve it, in what time scale and just go for it. Nothing to lose, everything to gain.

Whatever you decide, make a start, have fun and, as Confucius said: 'It doesn't matter how slowly you go, just don't stop.'

It's A Date In Burton: by Kath Hayhurst

Here are two extracts from The Lancaster Gazette:

"Died 19th May 1827 at Burton in Kendal Deborah Wilcock many years landlady of the Cross Keys Inn."

"30th June 1827 The Amicable Society

It is with regret we have to inform our readers that the Amicable Society, established in 1787 at Burton-in-Kendal, for the relief of its members in sickness, infirmity and old age, has been obliged to dissolve itself, in consequence of the failure of the treasurer. This Society was always considered to be one of the most flourishing in the north of England, having accumulated a capital of upwards of £1,500, and consisted of 111 members. As a striking instance of its prosperity, the clear produce of the year ending at Lady Day last would have been (had it continued) upwards of £34, after paying sick etc., and fourteen aged members at 12/-d. a month. We understand that a new Society is established at that place, on a similar plan to the old one, under the authority and provisions of the 18 Geo. 3 CaP.128, whereby its fund will be properly secured; which has already received the most prompt support from the neighbouring gentry, and there can be little doubt of its obtaining a large accession of young and healthy members."

Are you saying I'm an animal?

Well, animals eat, sleep and communicate like us. We're classified as mammals and have hearts, lungs, muscles and DNA like theirs.

But we walk on two legs!

As do gibbons and kangaroos.

We have opposable thumbs.

And so do gorillas and koalas!

What about our brain? It's so large!

Yes, but the same size, in proportion to our body, as the brain of a mouse.

OK. But what about our ability to think in complex ways, and about abstract ideas and morals, and even to wonder why we exist at all?

Human beings seem to be uniquely able to do all that, but those who can't, like newborn babies and brain-injured patients are still people, aren't they?

So is there something that unequivocally distinguishes us from animals?

Yes, but not in our biology. It's in something our creator said: "Let us make man in our image, in our likeness ..." (Genesis 1:26). Everything that God has made tells us something about him, but men and women are like mirrors reflecting a clear image of our maker. All the paintings in the art gallery tell us something about the artist but human beings are this artist's self-portrait.

That's why your life matters so much. And the lives of every other person.

Did God really say that?

Jesus believed that God did, and so did Jesus' apostles (Matthew 19:4 James 3:9).

We humans do some ugly things. Can we really be made in God's image?

The likeness is spoilt by our high-handed rebellion against our creator. We have slashed the painting in the gallery. Now Jesus alone perfectly shows us what God is like. His mission is to restore you and me to our intended glory. He has the power to take off our old warped self and reclothe us once again in the true likeness of God himself. It's the greatest Repair Shop in the world.

Sincerely,

Graham Burrows

Biscuit Recipe - Jeanie Christian

I lived in Northern Ireland for 20 years, the land of hospitality and food! Baking is still very popular and whenever you call at someone's house, family or friend you never get a cup of tea or coffee it always comes with biscuits, cakes, sandwiches... and often much more. Living there I embraced that culture, especially when so much has gone on there especially during the troubles. And if you don't bake, there is a bakery on nearly every corner (that's a slight exaggeration ... but as they say in Northern Ireland..." never let the truth get in the way of a good story.")

FLAKEMEAL BISCUITS

200 grams soft butter
150 grams castor sugar
150 grams plain flour
75 grams desiccated coconut
325 grams oats

METHOD:

1. Lightly butter 2 baking sheets and set oven to 180c.
2. Beat the butter and sugar until pale and fluffy.
3. Fold in the flour, coconut and oats and mix to dough.
4. Roll out to just over centimetre thick and cut out rounds.
5. Place on buttered baking sheets and bake for approx 20 mins.
6. Leave to cool on wire rack.

Home Instead.

2024 Quiz Nights – A Success and Looking Ahead

As a villager of 41 years, I've been lucky enough to experience many of the fun events and traditions that make Burton such a special place to live. From sports days and Onions and Daffodil shows, to fancy dress discos, coffee mornings, summer balls, Domino comps at the Kings, family bowling days, bingo at the hall, and carols at the King's Arms – these events have brought us together as a community, offering nights out with family and friends while also raising money for the committees and clubs that run them. These committees, made up of volunteers, work tirelessly not just to create memorable events, but to keep our village traditions alive. The hall, clubs, and other local initiatives need our support to continue thriving.

With this in mind, I had the idea to start the quiz nights at the newly refurbished King's Arms in 2024. My goal was to create a monthly event that would provide a fun night out for villagers, raise money for local causes, and support the pub. Thanks to everyone who attended, we raised an incredible £3,369, which went towards causes close to our hearts, as well as supporting our village charities and clubs. A special thank you to everyone who made the leaderboard competition so exciting, and to all who joined in throughout the year.

The December quiz ended on a high note with a special visitor delivering presents to all teams, making it a memorable occasion for all involved.

Unfortunately, due to work commitments, Annie and I are unable to continue hosting the monthly quizzes, but if any villagers are interested in taking over, please speak with James at the King's Arms. We may not be gone for good, though — keep an eye out for a few one-off quizzes in the future!

It's hard times for many right now, but let's remember that our village thrives because of the support we give to these events. So next time you're considering whether to attend or support an event, think about how important it is to keep these traditions alive. Every little bit helps, and together we can continue to keep our village vibrant and strong

The Royal Oak Update

We are finally getting closer to opening our doors at the Royal Oak. As many of you are aware the pub has been closed for over 17 years.

There has been major construction work required to enable the pub to reopen as a community hub for everyone to enjoy.

We apologise for the delay and inconvenience caused by the prolonged building works, but there has been many hurdles and challenges along the way, to ensure the building has retained its original character and charm and make it as functional as possible and improve the general appearance of our village centre.

We aim for it to be a relaxed and comfortable meeting place to enjoy a coffee, home cooked food and of course the odd alcoholic beverage or two!

During the summer months there is a private, enclosed beer garden to relax and enjoy the sunshine(hopefully)!

By the time this is published we should be nearer to confirming an opening date. Please check out our face book page.

We hope you will all enjoy this new facility and support it. So watch this space and we look forward to welcoming you.

Call for Advertisers

Do you run a company offering services to residents of Burton? If so, would you like to advertise with us? If you get this newsletter then you know it is distributed each month (except Jan) to all households in Burton, Dalton and Clawthorpe.

Our rates are very reasonable, starting at £66 for a 1/8th page advert running for 11 editions (we produce 11 editions each calendar year). You do not have to run your advertisement for a full year but just for those months that are most appropriate to your business. If you do take a full year's subscription then, as an introductory offer, we will double the size of your advert for the first month.

Please contact the editors on burtonnewseditor@gmail.com for advice and full information about our charges and advertising size formats.
